Beer Style Bingo

A caller reads out style clues. Players work out the style and mark it on their card.

You need

- One bingo card per player (12 different cards are included).
- The caller's clue cards, cut out and shuffled.
- A pencil, or bottle caps as markers.

How to play

1. The caller draws a clue card and reads the family, the description and the numbers. Not the answer.
2. Players who think they have that style on their card mark it. The caller keeps drawn cards in a pile.
3. First to complete a row, a column or a diagonal shouts "Cheers!" The caller checks each marked style against the pile.
4. A wrong mark means that player sits out the next clue. Keep playing for a full card if you like.

Make it harder

- Read only the numbers: ABV, IBU and colour.
- Pour small samples and let the beer be the clue.

Reading the numbers. ABV is alcohol by volume. IBU is bitterness: under 20 is gentle, over 60 is bold. SRM is colour: 2 to 4 is straw, 10 to 17 is amber to copper, 30 and up is black.

Pale ales

Which style am I?
The beer that taught a generation what American hops smell like, at a strength you can drink twice.
ABV 4.4-5.4%, IBU 30-50, colour 6-14 SRM
Answer: American Pale Ale

Pale ales

Which style am I?
Britain's everyday pub ale: low in alcohol, big on biscuit and earth, and made for drinking slowly.
ABV 3-4.2%, IBU 20-35, colour 5-12 SRM
Answer: English-Style Bitter

Pale lagers

Which style am I?
Pale, fizzy and very cold. Easy to sneer at, hard to brew well, and closer to Indian beer than you might think.
ABV 4.1-5.1%, IBU 5-19, colour 2-4 SRM
Answer: American Lager

Pale lagers

Which style am I?
The steelworkers' lager: fuller than helles, softer than pilsner, made for a real thirst.
ABV 5.1-6.1%, IBU 23-29, colour 3-6 SRM
Answer: European-Style Export

Pale lagers

Which style am I?
The crisp, dry _____. Lighter and more bitter than the Czech original, with a finish that snaps shut.
ABV 4.6-5.3%, IBU 25-50, colour 3-4 SRM
Answer: German-Style Pilsner

Porters

Which style am I?
A _____ that went north, swapped to lager yeast and came back strong, dark and very smooth.
ABV 7.6-9.3%, IBU 35-40, colour 17-30 SRM
Answer: Baltic-Style Porter

Porters

Which style am I?
_____ with its sleeves rolled up: more roast, softer than pilsner, made for a real thirst.
ABV 5.1-6.6%, IBU 25-40, colour 30-40 SRM
Answer: Robust Porter

Scottish ales

Which style am I?
Strong, malty and warming. The Scottish answer to cold weather, best taken slowly.
ABV 6.2-8%, IBU 25-35, colour 15-30 SRM
Answer: Scotch Ale/Wee Heavy

Sours and wild beers

Which style am I?
Belgium's wine-like sour: oak, cherry, a sharp edge and caramel underneath. A beer for people who say they hate beer.
ABV 4.8-6.6%, IBU 5-18, colour 12-25 SRM
Answer: Belgian-Style Flanders

Sours and wild beers
