Hop and Style Trumps

Two decks in one pack: 30 hop varieties and 30 beer styles. Play them apart or shuffle them for a chaos round.

How to play

1. Shuffle one deck and deal it all out face down. Players hold their pile and look only at the top card.
2. The player left of the dealer reads one stat from their top card, for example "Alpha acid, top: 16".
3. Everyone reads the same stat from their own top card. The highest number wins all the top cards and goes next.
4. On the Released stat the newest hop wins. Heritage hops are the oldest of all.
5. A tie puts the cards in the middle. The winner of the next round takes them too.
6. Win every card, or hold the most when time is up.

What the numbers mean. Alpha acid is the share of a hop that turns bitter in the boil: high alpha hops bitter efficiently, low alpha hops are usually kept for aroma. Hop figures are typical supplier ranges and change from crop to crop, so check your own spec sheet. Style figures are the top of each style's range in our Style Library.

The lager for people who want a bit more bread in the glass, without giving up the clean finish.

Style

German-Style Dunkel

Amber and dark lagers

ABV, top %	5.3
IBU, top	25
Colour SRM, top	17

Dark in the glass, gentle on the tongue: a lager that tastes of bread crust, not roast coffee.

Style

German-Style Marzen / Oktoberfest

Amber and dark lagers

ABV, top %	6
IBU, top	25
Colour SRM, top	15

Brewed in spring, drunk in autumn: the toasty amber lager behind every Oktoberfest menu.

Style

Belgian-Style Blonde Ale

Belgian ales

A brown abbey ale that tastes of raisins, plums and dark toffee, with a dry, warming finish.

Style

Belgian-Style Golden Strong Ale

Belgian ales

ABV, top %	11
IBU, top	50
Colour SRM, top	10

Looks like a lager, drinks like champagne, and is often nearly as strong as wine. Respect it.

Style

German-Style Bock

Bocks

ABV, top %	7.5
IBU, top	30
Colour SRM, top	30

A strong dark lager that is all about bread crust and toasted malt.

Style

German-Style Doppelbock

Bocks

ABV, top %	7.9

English-Style Mild
Brown ales

ABV, top %	4
IBU, top	24
Colour SRM, top	34

Big malt flavour at small strength. The beer you drink when you want to keep talking.

Style

American Cream Ale
Hybrids

ABV, top %	5.7
IBU, top	22
Colour SRM, top	5

An ale that wants to be a lager. Crisp, clean and very easy on a hot day.

Style

California Common
Hybrids

ABV, top %	5.7
IBU, top	45
Colour SRM, top	15

A lager yeast made to work in ale weather, and the beer is better for it.

Style

French-Style Biere de Garde
Hybrids

ABV, top %	8
IBU, top	30
Colour SRM, top	16

The farmhouse beer that was brewed in winter and kept for the summer harvest.

Style

American IPA
IPAs

ABV, top %	7.5
IBU, top	70

Clear, bitter and loud with American hops, the beer that defined craft for a generation.

Style

English-Style IPA
IPAs

ABV, top %	7
IBU, top	63
Colour SRM, top	14

The original IPA: earthy, biscuity and bitter, with no citrus fireworks.

Style

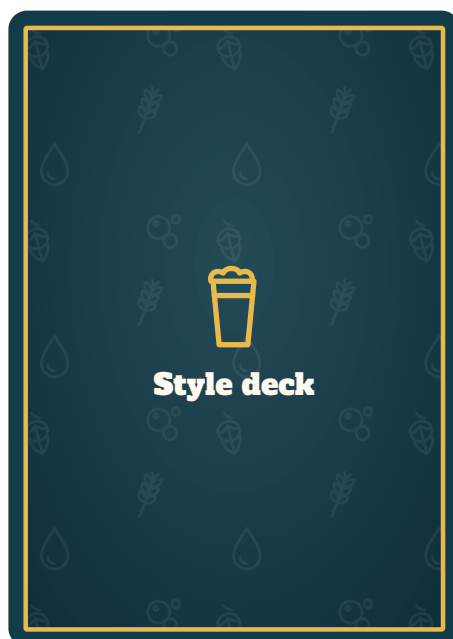

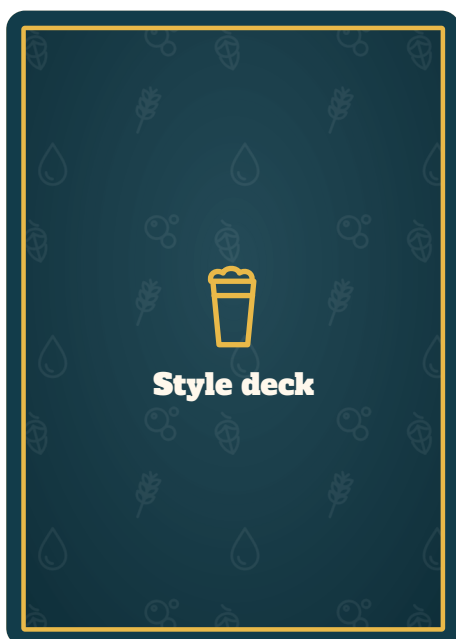

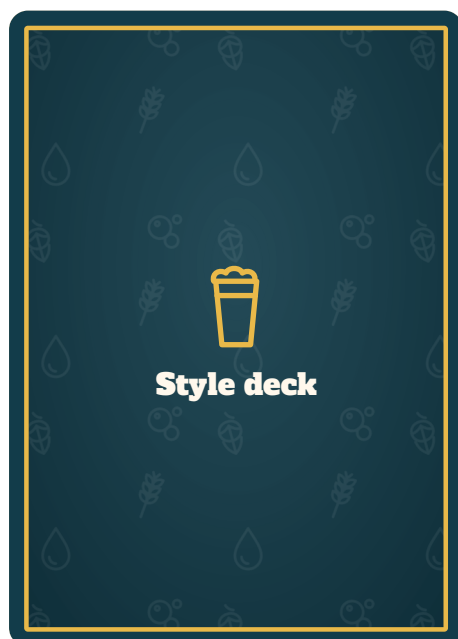

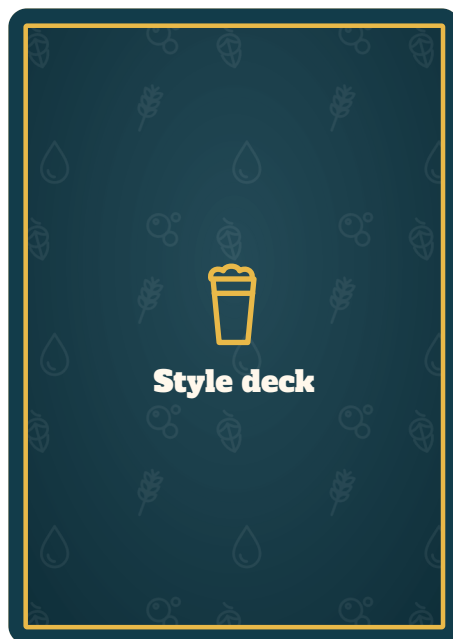

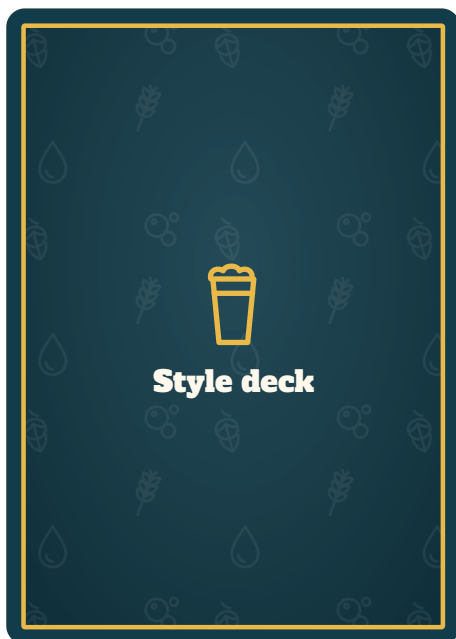

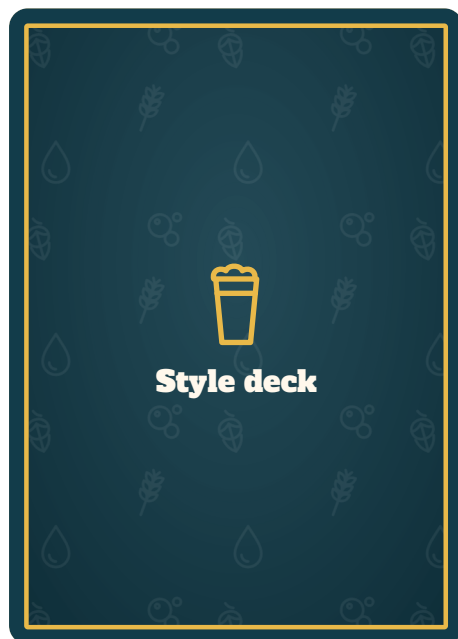

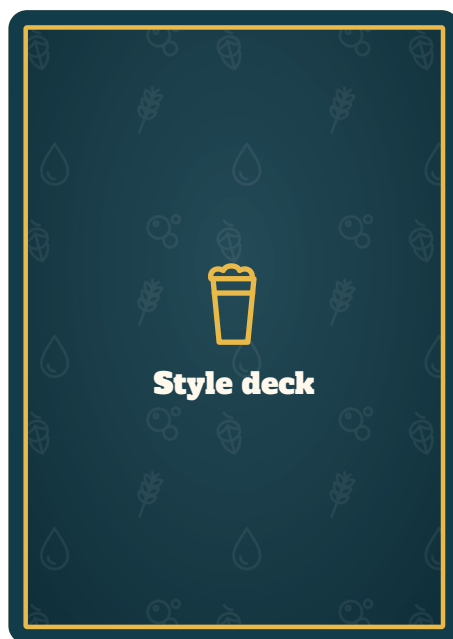

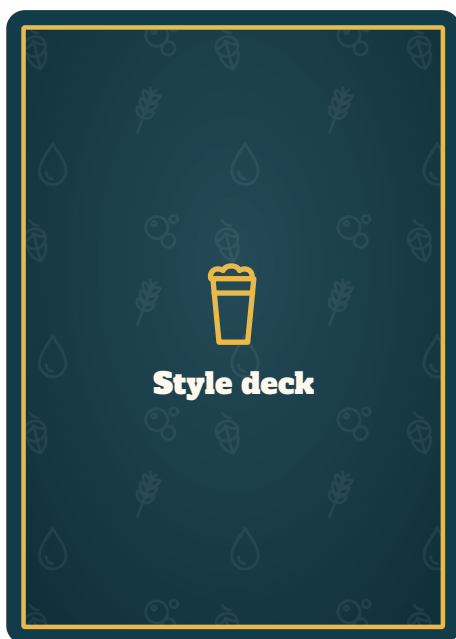

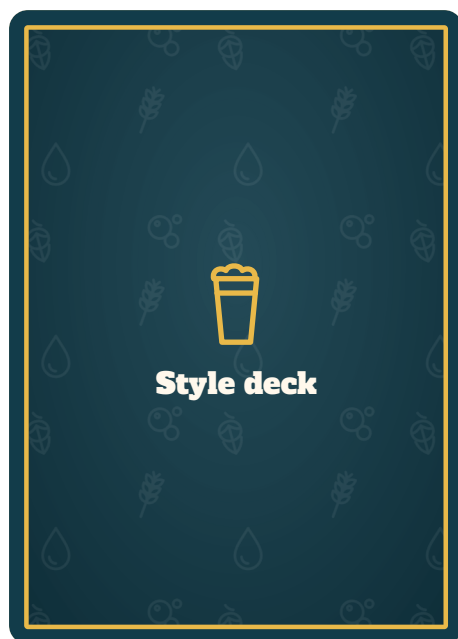

Imperial India Pale Ale
IPAs

ABV, top %	10.6
IBU, top	100
Colour SRM, top	9

An IPA with everything doubled, made dry enough that you forget how strong it is.

American Amber Ale Pale ales ABV, top % 6.1 IBU, top 45 Colour SRM, top 18 A pale ale with more caramel in the middle, built for the dinner table.		American Pale Ale Pale ales ABV, top % 5.4 IBU, top 50 Colour SRM, top 14 The beer that taught a generation what American hops smell like, at a strength you can drink twice.		Blonde Ale Pale ales ABV, top % 5.1 IBU, top 25 Colour SRM, top 7 The friendly ale. Light, bready and quietly made, it is often the beer a brewpub sells most of.
American Lager Pale lagers ABV, top % 5.1 IBU, top 19 Colour SRM, top 4 Pale, fizzy and very cold. Easy to sneer at, hard to brew well, and closer to Indian beer than you might think.		Bohemian-Style Pilsener Pale lagers ABV, top % 5.1 IBU, top 45 Colour SRM, top 7 The original golden lager: richer and rounder than the German version, with Saaz spice over bread and honey.		European-Style Export Pale lagers ABV, top % 6.1 IBU, top 29 Colour SRM, top 6 The steelworkers' lager: fuller than helles, softer than pilsner, made for a real thirst.
American Imperial Porter Porters ABV, top % 12 IBU, top 50 Colour SRM, top 40 Porter scaled up: more chocolate, more roast, more warmth. A beer to sip, not to quench.		Baltic-Style Porter Porters ABV, top % 9.3 IBU, top 40 Colour SRM, top 30 A porter that went north, swapped to lager yeast and came back strong, dark and very smooth.		English-Style Brown Porter Porters ABV, top % 6 IBU, top 30 Colour SRM, top 35 The original working beer of London: brown, soft, chocolatey and easy to keep drinking.

Style

Scotch Ale/Wee Heavy

Scottish ales

ABV, top %	8
IBU, top	35
Colour SRM, top	30

Strong, malty and warming. The Scottish answer to cold weather, best taken slowly.

Style

Scottish-Style Ale

Scottish ales

ABV, top %	5.3
IBU, top	25
Colour SRM, top	19

Malt-forward, low in bitterness and gentle on strength. A quiet beer with more going on than it lets on.

Style

Belgian-Style Flanders

Sours and wild beers

ABV, top %	6.6
IBU, top	18
Colour SRM, top	25

Belgium's wine-like sour: oak, cherry, a sharp edge and caramel underneath. A beer for people who say they hate beer.
