Pairing Dominoes

A 28-tile set where the pips are flavour families. Join halves that share a family and you build a chain of beer and food pairings.

How to play

1. Shuffle the tiles face down. Each player takes 7 (with 2 players) or 5 (with 3 or 4 players). The rest are the boneyard.
2. The player holding the Roast double starts. Otherwise the highest double starts.
3. On your turn, place a tile so one half touches an open end of the same colour family. Say the pairing out loud.
4. Cannot play? Draw from the boneyard until you can, or pass when it is empty.
5. First to play all their tiles wins. If everyone is stuck, the fewest tiles wins.

The families

- Crisp: Pilsner, Helles with Vegetable pakora, Samosa.
- Citrus: Witbier, Gose with Fish Amritsari, Lemon rice.
- Smoky: Rauchbier, Smoked porter with Tandoori chicken, Baingan bharta.
- Caramel: Amber ale, Brown ale with Gulab jamun, Onion uttapam.
- Roast: Dry stout, Imperial stout with Chocolate brownie, Mutton seekh kebab.
- Spice: Saison, Belgian tripel with Hyderabad biryani, Chole bhature.
- Tropical: Hazy IPA, Mango sour with Kerala prawn curry, Mango kulfi.

Why it works. Shared flavours amplify each other: roast meets chocolate, smoke meets the tandoor. Doubles show a beer and a dish from the same family, the strongest match in the set. Real pairing also uses contrast, like a crisp lager cutting through fried pakora, so argue about the edges.
